United Brethren General Conference.

The twentieth General Conference of the United Brethren Church, which is now in session at York, Pennsylvania, will be one of the most important meetings in the history of the denomination. Since the foundation of the church there have been six General Conferences of special importance. The General Conference of 1815 drew up the first printed discipline, and adopted the Confession of Faith. The General Conference of 1833 made the creed unchangable. The General Conference of 1837 took steps for the adoption of a constitution. The General Conference of 1841 drew up and adopted the present constitution of the church. At the General Conference of 1885 measures were adopted looking forward to a change in both Constitution and Confession of Faith, and the present General Conference is expected to declare the new Constitution and Confession of Faith the organic law and fundamental belief of the church.

A struggle has been going on in the church for many years in regard to certain questions of church polity. Several principles which the church had held from its foundation, became quite unpopular with a large class in the church, and an effort was made to change them. The struggle finally culminated in 1885 in an attempt to set aside both the articles of government and the articles of religion of the church. A commission was appointed to draw up a new constitution and a new confession of faith for submission to the vote of the church. One party at once denied the legality of the proposed method of change, and utterly refused to take any part in the commission, or in the vote on its work. As a result the proposed constitution and confession of faith received almost every vote cast at the election, and was declared adopted. In accordance with its own provisions, it will go into effect on the 13th. of this month. If the new constitution is on that day declared to be the organic law of the church, it is expected that a division of the denomination will be the result. One party will hold that the new constitution has been legally adopted, and that those who refuse to be governed by it thereby secede from the church. The other party will hold that the present constitution is the only valid organic law of the church, and as the new work has not been adopted in accordance with its provisions, it still remains the constitution of the church, and those who place themselves under the new constitution thereby withdraw from the United Brethren Church, and form a new church entirely distinct from the old. Both parties express a determination to stand fast to their positions, in which case a division of the church is inevitable. A law-suit alone can determine which is the true church, and therefore entitled to the church property. Most of the United Brethren living in Dayton will adhere to the new constitution and confession of faith.

Why Dont You Spit on It.

A good story has been told of a lipping officer of the United States Army, having been victimized by a brother office (who was noted for his cool deliberation and strong nerves), and his getting square with him in the following manner: The cool joker, the captain, was always quizzing the lipping officer, the lieutenant, for his nervousness.

"Why," said he, one day, in the presence of his company, "nervousness is all nonsense; I tell you, lieutenant, no brave man will be nervous."

"Well," inquired the lipping friend, "how would you do, thpose a shell with an inch futhee thould drop itthelf in a walled angle, in which you had taken thelter from a company of tharp-thootherth, and where it was thertain, if you put out your nothe, you'd get peppered?"

"How?" said the captain, winking at the circle, "why, take it cool, and spit on the fuse."

The party broke up, and all retired except the patrol. The next morning a number of soldiers were assembled on parade, and talking in clusters, when along came the lipping lieutenant. Lazily opening his eyes, he remarked:

"I want to try an experiment thith morning, and thee how ex-theeding cool you may be."

Saying this he walked deliberately into the captain's quarters, where a fire was burning on the hearth, and placed in its hottest center a powder canister, and instantly retreated. There was but one mode of egress from the quarters, and that was upon the parade ground, the road being built up for a defense; the occupant took one look at the canister, comprehended his situation, and in a moment dashed at the door, but it fastened on the outside.

"Charlie, let me out, if you love me!" shouted the captain.

"Thpit on the canither!" he shouted in return.

Not a moment was to be lost; he had at first snatched up a blanket, to cover his egress, but now, dropping it, he raised the window, and out he bounded, sans culottes, sans everything but a very short under-garment, and thus, with hair almost on end, he dashed upon a full parade ground. The shout which hailed him brought out the whole barracks to see what was the matter, and the dignified captain pulled a sergeant in front of him to hide himself.

"Why didn't you thpit on it?" inquired the lieutenant.

"Because there was no sharpshooters in front to stop a retreat," answered the captain.

"All I got to say, then, ith," said the lieutenant, "that you might thafely have done it; for I'll thwear there wasn't a single grain of powder in it."

The captain has never spoken of nervousness since.

The Amenities of Advertising.

If through the medium of an advertisement you discover some article that you desire to procure, when inquiring about it state the name of the publication wherein you saw the advertisement. If you are either an advertiser or a publisher you would be glad to have a correspondent deal similarly with you. It is an easy thing to do, and benefits at least two parties, viz., the one who inserts the advertisement and the publisher in whose journal it appeared. It benefits the former, because it points out to him the paper which is the best advertising medium, and helps him to concentrate his advertising expense where it will do him the most good. It benefits the publisher because it gives him the credit due his publication. It is simple justice—no more and no less.

DAYTON, OHIO.

That glorious rain took away our last excuse for a dry paper.

The first person who subscribed for the NEWS has renewed his subscription, and ordered us to continue the paper forever.

Have you forgotten that the West Side Improvement Association holds its meeting next Thursday evening, in the West Side Republican room? If so, cut this out and paste it in your hat.

Those West Side people who think that no business is transacted on this side of the river should look over our advertisements this week. Nearly every business is represented. Our part of the city need no longer be ashamed of its business outlook.

We publish this week a short article from one of the most active and zealous members of the Improvement Association. The points mentioned are well taken and are worthy of consideration.
We hope soon to begin the publication of a series of articles on our West Side affairs, written by various prominent citizens of our part of the city.

During the past week we have been canvassing for subscribers in that part of the city lying between Third and Fifth streets, and east of Baxter. We have succeeded well.
Every one has a good word for the paper. This week we will continue the canvas farther west. Let every man who thinks the paper is worth twenty cents for three months instruct his wife to subscribe for it when we call. If you have a boy, subscribe for the paper for him. If you have a little girl, get the paper for her. Children, who never think of looking in one of the larger newspapers, will read the NEWS. We aim to fill the paper with matter that will interest the young as well as the older people, and matter, too, that will instruct as well as entertain them. It costs only twenty cents to get the paper for them all Summer.

The Samoan Question.

The Samoan conference is now in session at Berlin. The deliberations are progressing smoothly and it is hoped that a satisfactory settlement of the points in dispute will soon be effected. The trouble dates back quite a number of years. In 1873 the American em-bassadors formed for the first time a treaty with the rulers of the Samoan islands. Prior to this time the affairs of the island had been in a very disorderly state. At one time the chiefs wished the United States to annex the islands, but the United States refused. They then formed a government in some respects similar to the American constitution, and chose Malietoa king, and Tamasese vice-king.

In the course of years treaties were formed with Germany and England. Germany became very much interested in the islands, and when the craze for colonies struck the rulers of that country, about ten years ago, they began to take steps for securing control of the islands. They encouraged Tama-sesse, the vice-king, to rebel against the lawful ruler Malietoa, and at last seized the king and transported him to another group of islands.
But their well laid plan proved unsuccessful. The islanders at once set up another king Mataafa, and compelled Tamasese to turn to the Germans for help. The latter were about to step in and take entire control of the islands, when the people of the United States became aroused and called a halt.
By virtue of a treaty made several years ago the control of the islands was equally divided between the three powers having commercial interests there, England, Germany and the United States. The United States declared that it would not permit Germany to obtain exclusive control of the islands, nor take any part in their internal government. During the disputes between the islands, a large amount of property belonging to German traders was destroyed.
For this the German government demands satisfaction, and wishes to take its pay in the form of a large slice of territory. It is to settle this question and to make arrangements for establishing a more stable government in the island, that the commission is now sitting in Berlin.

We will deliver the NEWS three months, to any address, for only twenty cents.

Our Improvement Association.

The great argument in favor of an improvement association is that whatever could be done by citizens acting singly and without special plan, can be done better by well planned and united effort. The West Side has a population of between seven and eight thousand.
Its position on converging pikes entering the city, its railroads affording switch privileges, its connection with the center of the city through three lines of street railways, its position toward the National Soldiers' Home, its half-dozen churches, its thriving manufactories, the character of its citizens for order and intelligence—all these give it advantages impossible to combine in any other part of the city. The West Side has patronage enough to throw, to treble the volume of its business within a year. With such an expansion of business, every other interest would be substantially built up. We greatly mistake the shrewd judgement and public spirit of the citizens of the West Side, if they do not give an earnest support to the Improvement Association, and if as individual citizens, they do not seek to promote the ends which the Association has in view.

LOCAL NEWS.

A movement is on foot to have Williams street extended below Germantown street.

Will Finch was laid up several days last week, with rheumatism.

The West Side is to have a boulevard. It will run along the Wolf Creek levee.

Miss Mary Perry, of Cincinnati, is visiting at Capt. T. W. Patterson's home on Third street.

The name of that part of Fourth street lying west of the rail road is to be changed to Amity.

Miami City is to have a photograph gallery. It will be located on corner of Third and Summit.

Several of our West Side young men are arranging to go camping down the river, next week.

Rev. V. F. Brown delivered an address before the M. E. District convention which met at Troy, last Tuesday.

Miss Florence Shelby, who has been quite sick with the scarlet fever, is now sufficiently recovered to go about the house.

One of the "signs of the times" can be observed by standing in front of the WEST SIDE NEWS office and looking directly north.

Chas. F. Surface will leave this evening for a visit to his parents at West Sonora.

The NEWS only costs one-fifth of a cent a day. Don't say you can't afford to take it.

Mr. K. L. Hoffman bought himself a new horse when up in the country last week.

Ed. Brown has been reappointed page of the School Board. It will be his third term.

David Kimmel starts on a visit to Chattanooga, Monday evening.

Mr. S. B. White has been severely afflicted for several weeks with a neuralgic pain in the back of his head.

Mr. Jack. Hamilton has gone to West Virginia. He expects to engage in the insurance business there.

The city council has passed an ordinance providing for the sprinkling of Mound street between Fifth and Third.

Mr. Cook is erecting a large frame building on the corner of Fifth and Baxter streets. It will be used as a dwelling and grocery.

Rev. Lerch, chaplain of the Soldiers' Home, will preach at the Broadway M. E. church, next Sabbath morning. Rev V. F. Brown will preach at the Home.

The Children's Day celebration of the United Brethren church will occur on June 2nd. Preparations are being made for the occasion at all the Dayton churches.

The suppers at the Methodist church, last Thursday and Friday, were a great success. Every one had a good time, and the societies which gave the supper realized a good sum from it.

One day last week as "Bob," the squirrel belonging to Mr. J. R.
Hoffman, was making a trip toward the West End, a lot of boys began chasing it, and had almost succeeded in killing it, when Joseph Boyd happened along and stopped their sport. The little fellow at last got back home, and may be seen hopping about the grocery with a part of its tail gone.

Messrs. Drury and Miller seem determined to do what they can for the improvement of Miami City. They have put up an iron fence and sodded the yard, and are now laying a cement walk along both fronts of their property on the corner of Third and Summit streets.

Cord Ruse, who recently arrived at the age of twenty-one years, felt so elated over it, that he removed the seat from the front of his sprinkling cart and placed it way up on top, in order that he might occupy a higher position.

The little chap who wanted to get out of school because it was so hot, forgot to tell his mother that there was going to be a game of base ball.

Rev. W. L. Byers and B. H.
Sutton, who recently graduated from the Seminary, have taken to themselves wives, and will start on a wedding tour through Pennsylvania, and also attend the U. B.
General Conference at York.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gilbert, who are making a trip through the east, report themselves as having a very pleasant time. They visited the most important objects of interest in New York, crossed the Brooklyn Bridge, and heard Dr. Talmage preach. They made a voyage up the Hudson past the Palisades and West Point, and took a trip down the bay to Bedloe's Island to see the statue of Liberty Enlightening the World. On their return they will stop at Philadelphia a few days, and then take in the U. B. General Conference now in session at York, Pa.

Revs. Hott, Drury, Mathews, and Keister stopped at Gettysburg, on their way to the General Conference. They rode over the battle-field, which covers an area of many square miles, and saw all there was to be seen. Most of the states have marked with monuments the positions occupied by their troops during the battle, thus rendering it much easier for visitors to understand the operations of the respective armies. For this reason, to visitors, it is the most interesting battle-field in America.

Base Ball Notes.

One of the most exciting games of the season was played last Saturday between the Hill-tops and the Sluggers. The teams were as follows:

SLUGGERS.		HILL TOPS.
Gausser	c.	Keck
Pottle	p.	Patterson
Arnold	1 b.	Frederick
Donnihoo	2 b.	Kuhns
Watson	3 b.	Stephens
Hoffman	s. s.	Kepler
Rape	r. f.	Francis
Drury	c. f.	Poffenberger
Arnold	1. f.	Francis

The game was called soon after breakfast and lasted till dinner. It was not till the eleventh inning that the Sluggers got the lead, winning by a score of 25 to 24.

The Bottoms came out on top in the game played on the Pottery lot last Thursday afternoon. The score was as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Bottoms	3	3	1	4	9	10	3	—33
Hills	1	1	2	1	1	1	2	—9

The names of the players and the positions played are as follows:

HILLS		BOTTOMS
Carroll	c.	Leslie
Patterson, H.	p.	Frantz
Patterson, F.	1 b.	Williams
Mao	2 b.	Warton
Ellis	3 b.	Hoffman, E
Herr	s. s.	Hoffman,
Weaver	c f.	Cotterill
Patterson, F.	r f.	High
Hawes	1 f.	Horn

Before the game began the Hills were the favorites, but after the fourth inning it was evident that the game was lost to them. The success of the Bottoms was largely due to their battery, Frantz and Leslie. The hills were unable to use the bat effectively, and but the errors of their opponents would have secured only one run. The Bottoms had no trouble to hit the ball, and, aided by the errors of the Hills, piled up thirty-three runs in seven innings. In the fifth and sixth innings the Hills became demoralized and allowed the Bottoms to add nineteen to their score.

Another game next Thursday.

Horn's three-bagger to center was a dandy.

"Little Joe" will use prepared glue to hold down the score, next time.

The Hills were weakened by the absence of their regular pitcher.

Leslie's drive to left field just after being hit with the ball brought out a big cheer.

The spectators in the grand stand had considerable trouble in keeping the small boys "down in front." It is hoped that they will not be put in this trouble hereafter.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Supreme Court of Nebraska has decide that the holder of a mortgage on growing corn cannot recover after the corn has been harvested and sold.

New York's centennial celebration closed Wednesday with a mammoth civic and industrial parade. From a stand in Madison Square President Harrison reviewed the procession, which it is estimated numbered 90,000.

May 4th was the anniversary of the great Anarchist trouble in Chicago. A splendid monument has been erected near the spot where nearly seventy policeman were killed or wounded by the bomb, but the ceremony of unveiling has been postponed. The main part of the structure is a bronze statue of a policeman on a stone pedestal. The figure is strikingly life-like and imposing.

The President and the Secretary of the Interior have called upon United States officials in Oklahoma charged in the report of inspectors of the interior department with corrupt practices in connection with public lands in that territory for any explanation or statement they may desire to make relative thereto. The report of the inspector will not be made public at present.
